Parking Meters

Potato Scandal
Lottery, Idle Talk

The newspaper duel in Little Rock in which the Arkansas Gazette was favoring installation of parking meters on the capital city's streets and the Arkansas Democrat was opposing the meters ended yesterday with a victory for the Democrat. Little Rock voters in a special referendum turned down the meters 5,995 to 2,410, meter opponents sweeping all of the city's 23 precincts.

However, the meter idea originated with the Young Men's Business association, had been endorsed unanimously by the City Council — and the rest of the story was merely a clash between conflicting opinions of newspapers and the public generally.

Personally, I think like the Little Rock YMBA, the Little Rock City Council and the Arkansas Gazette, on this particular issue — and my bet is, sooner or later Little Rock will adopt the parking meters.

The same goes for towns much smaller than Little Rock, such as Hope, for instance. Parking regulations which are so necessary to keep downtown streets open to shoppers depend on the infallibility of policemen in marking up automobile tires with chalk — and the honesty of car owners in refraining from rubbing off the telltale marks.

Unless you have parking meters — in which case the operation is automatic, a mere glance by a passing policeman telling that the car is overparked when the flag shows red.

The Washington legislative crop news overnight is favorable to the South. The Senate-House conference committee on crop supports voted four to three to tighten up on potato price props but to liberalize the support on cotton and peanuts.

The bulging potato surplus is a national scandal. Any time any production — whether farm, or tariff-supported industrial — gets into that shape you can expect sharp cuts in prices and drastic federal controls. The nation is already losing 5 billion dollars a year in the operation of its government, and nobody makes any money individually under that kind of an administration — for long.

The old lottery ghost has again raised its head.

And the purpose? To find revenue for a veterans' state bonus. If passed by the legislature the lottery issue would be submitted to a state-wide referendum — and that's where the legislators confess to a fancy piece of double-dealing.

If they'd been sincere about raising money for the veterans they would have picked a legitimate avenue of taxation — not the illegitimate lottery scheme, which is outlawed in every state in America. I don't believe the Kentucky veterans are fooled for a minute by this magnanimous gesture (the Kentucky House adopted the lottery bill 89 to 0).

Man Who Passed Hot Checks Here Jailed in Ohio

The Sheriff's Department announced today that a man using the name of Garry Gray who passed two $100 counterfeit cashier checks here in February has been apprehended on similar charges in Ohio.

His real name is George L. Stuckey and he has a long prison record, Sheriff Sutton and Deputy Shipp said. The department is trying to get him returned to Hope for trial.

He passed checks at the local Penny Store and at Lehman's Auto store here. Several also were passed in Miller county.

Approval of Price Support Issue Expected

Washington, March 15 — (AP) — A far-reaching give-away program, intended to lift the surplus potato burden from the farm price support plan, may be on President Truman's desk by the week end.

The program is included in compromise legislation, that also seeks to remove inequities in cotton and peanut acreage allotments for the 1950 crop. The measure, approved yesterday by a senate-house conference committee, is expected to get prompt approval by the two houses.

It would authorize about 1,250,000 additional acres for the 1950 cotton plantings, and boost peanut acreage by about 100,000, principally in Alabama and Texas.

Provisions for wheat acreage adjustments were dropped from the bill with the understanding that they will be handled later in separate legislation.

Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) indicated he might now go along with the compromise because potato controls had been tightened and added wheat acreage eliminated. But first he wanted to study the new measure. Lucas had predicted a presidential veto for earlier tentative agreed measures which subsequently were dropped.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the house agriculture committee said the compromise "is not all I wanted, but is substantially better than the bill originally passed by the senate." He said he expects the bill to be on Mr. Truman's desk by Friday night.

Here's what the compromise does:

Potatoes—
The secretary of agriculture is authorized not only to give away surplus potatoes bought by the government but also to pay the transportation for their delivery to such recipients as public and private non-profit institutions and organizations.

Gifts of potatoes may be made abroad, through international organizations, and the United States government would pay the freight to the American port where the potatoes are to be loaded for shipment.

Cotton—
No farmer receives an acreage allotment lower than 65 per cent of the average amount of land planted to the crop in 1946, 1947 and 1948. Nor shall his allotment be reduced to less than 45 per cent of the amount of land planted to cotton any one of these three years. This is designed to erase inequities under the cotton allotments that already have been made.

This applies only to the 1950 crop. Later legislation will deal with acreage allotments for future years.

The new legislation will bring the total cotton allotments for 1950 to 22,250,000 acres, but Cooley said he expects the 1,250,000 added acres to be more than offset by an estimated 1,000,000 acres of unused allotments.

Selection of Jury in Coed Murder Trial

Iowa City, Ia., March 15 — (AP) — It may take through Friday to pick a jury for the murder trial of Robert E. Bednasek, 24-year-old University of Iowa student.

Defense Attorney Clair Hamilton made this estimate as lawyers today continued for the second day their questioning of prospective jurors. Others estimated one or two more days to pick the jury.

The poetry-reading defendant is accused of strangling his beautiful coed sweetheart, Margaret (Gee) Jackson, 20. Both were senior psychology students.

Cautious questioning of prospective jurors yesterday certain general patterns by counsel for both sides. There was the "only child" aspect of the case.

The state asked on numerous occasions of prospective jurors if they had any brothers or sisters, and, if married, how many children they had. Bednasek is an only child, and so was Miss Jackson.

Questioning by defense attorneys indicated they may seek to show that the pretty golden-haired blonde died accidentally. She was found dead last Dec. 11 in the rooming house where Bednasek stayed.

The state has made no mention of capital punishment in its questioning of candidates. However, it has asked them if they would assume the responsibility of fixing the penalty if so instructed by the court.

Temperatures Head Toward Normal Levels

By The Associated Press

Temperatures headed toward normal levels over most of the chilly sections in the eastern half of the country today.

Cold weather lingered in parts of the north central region. The mercury dipped to eight below zero at International Falls, Minn. The chilly line extended eastward to the South Atlantic coast but some warming appeared in prospect.

Warmer weather was reported. Light rain fell in parts of Texas and Oklahoma and snow flurries were reported near the lower Great Lakes region and in northern Idaho and western Montana. Skies were clear over most of the rest of the country.

Vernon Whitten

Whitten Again to Seek Seat in Congress

"A sane and sensible farm program" will keynote Vernon Whitten's campaign for the Seventh District Congressional seat, now occupied by Oren Harris, said Mr. Whitten today in formally announcing his candidacy.

"The plight of the Southern farmer is desperate," he said. Between bad weather and the boll weevil our farmers suffered crippling losses last year and on top of it all they now face an insane crop control plan.

"If elected I intend to do something about this state of affairs because I feel that it is a Congressman's job. I want the government to protect the South's farmers because any program that hurts the farmer also hurts everybody else. A good farm program will eventually eliminate subsidies and help the farmer diversify and run his own affairs."

Mr. Whitten, who polled 13,600 votes against the incumbent in 1948, also advocates:

2. Decentralization of the Federal government, reducing costs of government and providing more state and local control.

3. Strengthening the American economic system, stressing preservation of individual freedom instead of government programs which will eventually socialize our nation.

4. Empowering the United Nations to establish a world peace government limited strictly to the prevention of war.

He taught school for seven years in Hempstead and Nevada counties.

Mr. Whitten said: "My conception of a congressman's job is to represent the whole people of his district. If I go to Washington I intend to carry out to the letter."

Religious Film to Be Shown at Presbyterian Church

Eld. Jeff Welch to speak and show pictures in interest of mission work in Central and South America at Unity Baptist church, 7:30 this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch have made a trip to South America and have some very interesting first hand knowledge of the mission work there. They made pictures on the trip and these pictures will be shown following a message by Bro. Welch. The public is urged to attend this service beginning tonight at 7:30 at the Unity Missionary Baptist church.

Senators Press McCarthy for More Names

Washington, March 15 — (AP) — Senate investigators today pressed Senator McCarthy for more names to back up his charges of communism in the state department. But McCarthy replied he needs "a couple nights of sleep" before he proceeds.

The Wisconsin Republican's plea for more time came after Dorothy Kenyon, one of those he has accused of being pro-Communist, retorted sharply.

"There is not a Communist bone in my body," Miss Kenyon, former American delegate on a United Nations commission, took the witness stand yesterday afternoon. She denied emphatically McCarthy's contention that she has a background of "deeply rooted Communist activities."

Her denial came on the heels of disavowals, too, on the part of others whom McCarthy accused yesterday of being bad security risks.

After the senate foreign relations subcommittee is investigating McCarthy's charges, Miss Kenyon, the group scheduled a meeting behind closed doors for today. Senator Tydings (D-Md.) said the session was called to (1) discuss ways of speeding up the inquiry and (2) to see what can be done about getting names in the 81 "security risk" cases which McCarthy outlined to the senate Feb. 20.

So far McCarthy has given the committee the names of only one or two of the 81 individuals.

"It is absolutely baffling," Tydings said, "that charges were made in 81 cases, but we can't get the names. What is the use of charging disloyalty if you let them stay there (in the state department) for six months?"

"Obviously, we can't investigate a person whose name we don't know."

In reply, McCarthy told reporters that he will turn over all of the names as soon as he can finish documenting the cases. He added that he won't be able to do it, or to resume testimony at public hearings "until I get a couple nights of sleep."

McCarthy said he is worn out from staying up until two or three o'clock each morning working on his cases.

He noted that yesterday he gave the committee the names of 25 persons he described as apparently poor security risks on the basis of FBI investigations. He did not name them in asking the committee to check each of the individuals — none of them on his original list of 81.

Tydings declared the group intends to go to work on the 25, but he said he would like to have all of the names McCarthy has before any move is made to scrutinize the loyalty files.

Success Can Come Early to an American — the Wonder Boy of Building Is Only 31

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP) — There are two unusual things about Herbert Fischbach.

He is one of the few men in America who collect silver cornerstones in his home. And he is the only man in America who is building what he calls "the largest single unit apartment house in the world."

At 31 Fischbach is the current boy wonder of Manhattan real estate.

He is supervising the erection of a $12,000,000 massive, luxury-type apartment building for 651 families on a Riverside drive site where only one family used to live. But the family was that of the late Charles Schwab, the steel titan.

The new building will replace the elegant 75-room stone chateau built by Schwab at the peak of his wealth and once known as "the finest home in the United States."

Schwab poured from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 in it, and died insolvent. An odd fact about the chateau: its refrigerators could hold 25 tons of meat, but Schwab in his last years ate only a boiled egg for dinner.

"Steel started going up for the building last week, and it'll be finished by Nov. 1," said Fischbach. "But already it is 7 per cent rented."

The apartmentments have about everything the wife of a city slicker might ask: Automatic waste-disposal units, electric dishwashers, fireproof paint, big closets with built-in drawer space, and maid, valet, catering and shopping services.

"A woman could live here forever and never even have to leave the building," said Fischbach, who has learned considerable about feminine psychology. Most apartmentments have either two or three television outlets.

"Many families today find one television set isn't enough for their needs," he explained. "There is a growing trend toward more gracious living."

Parking Meters Turned Down in Little Rock

Little Rock, March 15 — (AP) — Little Rock voters have turned down proposed installation of parking meters here for the second time within two years.

The latest rejection, at a special election here yesterday, was much more emphatic than the first.

The meters were opposed by 5,995 persons; favored by 2,410. The total vote was 8,405.

In April, 1948, the meters were opposed by 687 and favored by 1,849. The total vote was 4,516.

U. S. Trains Guns on Tax Dodgers

Washington, March 15 — (AP) — The government trained its guns on tax dodgers—past and future alike—as it came up to the 1949 income tax payment deadline at midnight tonight.

To get help in bringing to light new evasion attempts, it dangled before prospective tax informers a $500,000 pool of funds available this year for evidence uncovering tax frauds.

To mop up on cases involving income amassed in the big war profit year of 1943, it asked grand juries over the country to rush indictments today lest the law's "statute of limitations" bar further action. An indictment, or some other form of action such as the filing of a bill of complaint, has to be in the record by midnight to get within the time limit as to 1943 returns.

As for informers, they will have a chance to ring up a record haul this year for the third year in a row.

There are more than 40,000,000 persons subject to the federal income tax. How many will try to cut corners is just a guess.

Last year was a big year for informers — and the government.

The government paid out $449,984 to 97 informers, in rewards ranging from $25.86 to $47,072, for aid that led to the recovery of $3,187,914 in taxes that otherwise would have escaped detection.

That completely overshadowed the previous record tallied in 1948, when informers rewarded totaled $39,975 and led to recoveries totaling $2,315,000.

The main reasons for tax informing — patriotic desire to prevent evasions, disgruntlement of employees with their bosses, family feuds and jealousies, and women scorned — endure in peace as well as in war.

The biggest reward to date, $80,000 that was split among three people, came in a case where the government recovered $2,600,000 back in the depressed mid-1930s.

Poland Blasts U. S., Quits World Bank

Washington, March 15 — (AP) — Poland withdrew from the world bank today with an angry charge that the 48-nation institution is under the thumb of the United States and "its imperialist policy." It also pulled out of the international monetary fund.

In a communication to the bank, the communist-dominated Polish government cited the refusal of the bank to grant it a $200,000,000 loan. It said the reason was Poland's rejection of "the so-called Marshall plan which had as its aim the subordination of Europe to the United States and the rebuilding of the war potential of Germany."

Washington, March 15 — (AP) — A Russian-dominated Poland has withdrawn from the world bank.

The 48-nation financial institution announced the withdrawal today. It was the first resignation from the bank since it was organized in 1945.

It was understood Poland also had quit the world monetary fund, sister institution to the bank, but there was no immediate statement from the fund.

The bank was set up after the war to finance reconstruction of war-damaged countries and to aid in development of backward areas.

Czechoslovakia is the only other member of the bank and fund from the Russian bloc. There was no word as to whether the Czechs would follow the lead of the Poles.

The bank made public a letter from Poland's ambassador here, Jozef Winiewicz, stating that Poland had quit the bank and citing failure of the bank to grant Poland's request for a $200,000,000 loan.

The Polish ambassador said: "The bank refused to grant Poland a loan, because Poland rejected the proposition of acceding to the so-called Marshall plan, which had as its aim the subordination of Europe to the United States and the rebuilding of the war potential of Germany."

"The bank clearly confirms in its report for the year 1947-48 the fact of the subservience of the bank's policy to the Marshall plan and to the tendency to restore the economic power of separatist Western Germany, dependent upon the United States."

(The bank report was issued last September at the bank's annual meeting here. The Marshall plan has been in operation a couple of years.)

Yerger Honor Society Is Organized

On Monday, March 13, in an impressive candle light ceremony conducted by members of the Hope High school chapter of the National Honor Society, seventeen Yerger High school students were accepted in the National Honor Society.

The Hope High school chapter, under the supervision of its sponsor Mrs. Perkins, conducted the ceremony in which the ideals of the society — character, leadership, scholarship and service — were stressed to the candidates and student body.

Pins and guards were presented to the following members of the newly organized Yerger Chapter: Charlene Smith, Marilyn Hamilton, Josephine Covington, Doris Covington, Josephine Gilmore, Joe Anna Pegge, Minnie McFadden, Louise Graham, Doris Monk, Aursby Moss, James C. Phillips, Isiah Stuart, Garland Hicks, Matthew Williams, Edward Williams, Annie Jewel Watkins and Laquita Johnson.

This was the first initiation of the Society at Yerger High school and much emphasis was placed upon the value and importance of such an organization. On Friday, March 10, Superintendent James H. Jones spoke to the Yerger student body on the merits and aims of the National Honor Society.

Blanche M. Alston and R. J. Torrence are the co-sponsors of the Yerger Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Melon Committees to Meet Here Tuesday Night

Watermelon festival committees from Blevins, Spring Hill, Patmos, Fulton, Washington, DeAnn and Hope will meet Tuesday night, March 21, at 7:30 in the Chamber of Commerce office here. The groups are expected to work out details for an annual festival to be held sometime during the melon season.

Contract Let for National Guard Armory

J. E. Still

J. E. Still Is Candidate for Chancellor

J. E. Still, Arkadelphia attorney, formally announced today as a candidate for Chancellor of the Second Division of the Sixth Circuit of Arkansas.

Mr. Still is a native of Clark County. He attended the Arkadelphia public school and was graduated from Henderson State Teachers college in 1931. He later attended the University of Texas as a graduate student of economics and history and he served one year as principal of the Amity High school and in 1936 he received his law degree from the University of Arkansas School of Law. Upon his admission to the bar in 1936, Mr. Still was elected City Attorney of Arkadelphia and served until 1945 when he was elected County and Probate Clerk of Clark county, an office he has held for three terms.

In 1934 Mr. Still married Miss Ida Mae Cannon, daughter of Mrs. Arch Cannon and the late Arch Cannon of Hope, Arkansas. They have one daughter, Cynthia, who is a student in Arkadelphia High school. Mrs. Still, formerly taught in the high schools of Springhill, Murfreesboro, Hope and Arkadelphia and for two years was Dean of Women at Magnolia A & M college.

In making his announcement Mr. Still stated: "The office for which I am a candidate was created by the Legislature of 1949 because the dockets of the chancery court in the counties comprising the Sixth Chancery Circuit were so crowded that it was impossible for one chancellor to hear all cases without undue delay in some of the counties, especially with the additional burden entailed through the trial of Probate matters."

"The counties comprising the Sixth Circuit are Howard, Sevier, Pike, Little River, Polk, Miller, Hempstead, Nevada and Clark. Since it was the purpose of the legislature to relieve the delay in the trial of cases by creating the office I am seeking, it is my intention, if elected, to use every effort to carry out such purpose by serving the district to the utmost of my ability. In the past I have endeavored to place at the service of my constituents the best of my talents and training. I invite an investigation of my record, which would show that the interests of the people of the Sixth Chancery District would be well guarded."

The state's 21 witnesses include Harris, 50, who is paralyzed from a bullet, and his 17-year-old daughter, Verline Thurman, who is recovering from a bullet wound received at the same time.

Court-appointed defense attorney Kosciusko Mayor Alton Mason said the defendant and his brother, Malcolm, would testify.

Attalla County Circuit Judge C. H. McWhorter said so far he knew Windol Whitte would be a first white man to be tried for murder of a Negro in this county.

Oldtimers here recalled the have been relatively few white men executed in the South since the killing of Negroes. There was a case back in 1890, they recalled, in which a white storekeeper, Grenada county, Mississippi, was hanged for killing a Negro.

Training Sch. PTA Active at Blevins

The Blevins Training school, proud of the Sanitary drink fountains which were installed in the buildings and on the campus last week. This was a cooperative project of the PTA and the Blevins school board. The PTA chased seven sanitary drink fountains last year. The school board has installed these fountains at the most convenient places.

This year, the P. T. A. has a campaign to install hot running water in the school building. This will help to bring the program up to the state sanitary requirements.

The annual P. T. A. banquet will be Thursday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. The program will consist of a short play, "Education for a Short Play," and several other numbers. The P. T. A. will be about 100 strong.

Thirty-three states have adopted official birds.

Caesarean Is Safer For Mother

Pittsburgh, March 15 — (P) — A study of top-flight baby doctors reports birth by caesarean section — surgical delivery of a baby — has become safer for a mother than for her child.

At a meeting of some 700 physicians, members of the American College of Surgeons, Dr. Franklin L. Payne, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Pennsylvania, declared caesarean deliveries are now ten times safer for mothers than they were 30 years ago.

Since 1920, Dr. Payne reported, the death rate for mothers following caesarean deliveries has dropped from one in ten to one in 100. The decline in infant mortalities following operations, he said, has not been as great.

The Gilbert and Ellise islands are the only territory in the world to straddle both the equator and the international date line, according to the National Geographic Society.

New School Construction May Get Aid

Washington, March 15 — (P) — Proposals for a federal program of school construction won new attention in congress today.

It appeared to be the only likely substitute at this session for general aid to education, shelved yesterday by the house labor committee in the climax to months of bitter controversy.

The committee pigeonholed the $300,000,000 senate-passed bill intended to help the states meet their school operating expenses.

However, before turning to consideration of a construction bill, the committee agreed to vote today on two other aid measures of interest in a last-ditch try to keep the issue alive.

One would authorize $300,000,000 for use solely to pay teachers salaries and raise salary standards. The other would authorize an estimated $130,000,000 for assistance only to the few neediest states.

The general aid bill, buffeted by religious controversy over parochial school participation, in such things as government-financed bus transportation, was shelved by a 13 to 12 vote of the committee with Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) himself voting to kill it.

Now, Lesinski announced, the committee will consider construction proposals as "the best type of federal aid that we can supply." "A construction bill will solve the whole problem," Lesinski said. "The government can help the states build schoolhouses and the states will then be free to that extent to use their own money."

Senate to Vote on Housing Aid

Washington, March 15 — (P) — The senate came up to an important vote today on President Truman's proposal of government housing aid for "middle income families." The test, set for sometime after 4:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time by prior senate agreement, was expected to be decided on a close vote.

At issue is a proposal to use $1,000,000,000 of government credit for long-term, low-interest loans to co-operatives and non-profit groups. The loans would be expected to aid groups of families with incomes averaging between $2,400 and $4,700 a year, to rent or own better housing.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) and other advocates of the plan—which already has been cut in half and revised to meet some objections—contended in reply to criticism it is not as inflationary as more than $2,000,000,000 already pledged to large-scale rental projects. The plan is part of a general housing bill which includes provisions for a number of other programs.

Sensors Long (D-La), Russell (D-Ga) and Lehman (D-Ill-NY) joined Sparkman in hammering away at past and present government housing guarantees made to private industry and even "real estate speculators" for housing projects.

Long told the senate yesterday that some of these speculators had been able to "pocket 20 cents of every dollar" advanced under government-guaranteed loans.

The test on middle income housing will come first on a motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) to knock the cooperative provisions out of the omnibus housing bill. He, and others, said the government should be getting out of the housing business; some hit at cooperatives as socialistic.

Indiana Farm Hand Slays Three Men

Gary, Ind., March 15 — (P) — Three men were found shot to death on a farm near East Gary today, and a farmhand was lodged in the town jail.

Lon Daugherty, town marshal, said the farm worker, Michael Saganovich, was "too drunk to talk" about the triple killing.

The dead were Paul Shuman, about 55; his nephew, Ignace Gerashenok, about 50, and a farm hand who was not identified immediately.

The marshal said Shuman's son-in-law, Everett Fisher, reported Saganovich flagged him down outside the Shuman farmhouse this morning and said: "They're all dead in the house."

Court Action May Be Necessary to Right-of-Way

West Memphis, March 15 — (P) — The state of Arkansas may have to go to court to get the right-of-way it needs for the proposed West Memphis by-pass road.

Highway Commission Chairman J. B. Lunbert said so here yesterday.

But, he added, the commission hopes to avoid litigation if possible.

He said property owners were asking excessive amounts for the approximately 300 acres which are needed.

The proposed by-pass road would route heavy traffic across the Mississippi river around West Memphis.

State Dept. Hearing Is Strange Show

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 15 — (P) — This is a strange show here. . . . The hearings on Senator McCarthy's attack on the loyalty of present and former employees of the state department.

No one is predicting how long the hearings will continue. The Wisconsin Republican, McCarthy, hasn't finished reading his list of people upon whom he's casting suspicion.

The five members of the foreign relations committee's subcommittee, which is conducting the hearings, are now sort of sitting back, letting McCarthy call off the names.

Movie lights make the room brilliant. Cameras are busy. News-men line both sides of two long tables. Policemen keep traffic moving through the door.

People are continually moving in, standing or finding seats, and leaving. The big room in the senate office building is packed with them. Every chair is taken.

The dark-haired and heavy-browed McCarthy, a former marine, bends his head over his lists and reads on, naming names. News-men hurry from their tables to send out bulletins on their wires.

Those news bulletins flash around the country. Other news-men in other places see the McCarthy charges and if one of the charges lives nearby, he's quickly asked for a statement.

Back across the country flow the denials of the people McCarthy has just named. It's "boring," one says. "Fantastic," says another. "McCarthy is a cowardly liar," says another.

People listed as suspects by McCarthy will be given a chance to answer him in front of the same subcommittee and the lights and cameras.

One of them, Miss Dorothy Kenyon who testified yesterday and flatly denied McCarthy's charges against her, spoke of the damage to her reputation and wondered whether her denials could ever

Child Actress Changes Her 'Starved' Story

Hollywood, March 15 — (P) — Runaway Lora Lee Michel, 8-year-old $100 a day actress, has reversed her stories of being starved to keep thin for movie roles, says Juvenile Judge A. A. Scott.

"She is a precocious, emotional child who could get a lot of people into trouble," Judge Scott said last night after a long interview with the child.

He said she told him she had never been beaten or starved by her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michel, and that they had been wonderful to her.

Monday night the youngster left the Michel's apartment and, clad only in pajamas, took a cab to the home of Rev. Aldred Sundstrum in nearby Burbank.

She said she told him "I had to get away, I couldn't stand it any longer."

catch up with McCarthy's charges against her.

Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, a Republican colleague of McCarthy, questioned Miss Kenyon and then said he has no doubt about her loyalty.

Whether the other charges, if they come here to state their case, will make out well remains to be seen. But, of course, this isn't a one way for McCarthy.

When he undertook to throw suspicion on the loyalty of a number of Americans, he was sticking his neck away out. If he can back up his charges, he's done a public service in uncovering disloyalty.

But if it turns out that he can't back them up, the public memory is long, and, although McCarthy doesn't have to run for re-election until 1952 this situation probably will not be forgotten.

Senator Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the committee, for the first two days of the hearing which began last week, gave McCarthy a rough time, making him stop every minute to explain in detail the charges he was making.

But, beginning Monday, Tydings against her, spoke of the damage to her reputation and wondered whether her denials could ever

Watches Birds

Dear Miss Dix: I have been a good and faithful husband to my wife, and her four children, now grown, bear testimony to the fact that I have been splendid step-father to them. For more than twenty-one years I have carried out every desire of my wife, who is considerably older than myself. I am a very quiet and reserved man and my greatest pleasure is in my hobby, which is the love of birds. I love to watch them. To this my wife strongly objects. She ridicules me daily and sends my harmless little birds, and my little aviary at the far edge of the garden has been the cause of many a quarrel. I love peace at any cost, but I do not feel that I should give up this one hobby to please her, yet her constant nagging takes away the happiness I derive from it. What should I do?

UNDECIDED

Answer: Keep your birds. As mondsville, Texas and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCorkle, Jr. in LaFeria.

wrong attitude about it? Should I leave them to work out things in their own way?

A MOTHER

Answer: You will have to leave them to work it out their own way because there is nothing you can do with an infatuated girl. She is deaf to reason and blind to consequences and nothing but time and experience can bring her to her senses.

She cannot even see that she is taking the surest possible way to disgust the young man and keep him from marrying her. For there is nothing a man gets fed upon so quickly as too much love. He gets surfeited on it as surely as he would on too many chocolate creams. Kisses lose their flavor when they become a steady diet and petting becomes a chore when a girl demands it.

No girl can possibly make a bigger mistake than to make herself too easy, for thereby she becomes so cheap that the man ceases to want her. It is the girls who have reserve, and who hold themselves dearly that men desire. For down at the bottom of his heart every man is an adventurer who loves the chase. And he loses interest in the game the moment the role is reversed and he becomes the chased and the woman the chaser.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband insists on taking his stenographer home several times a week in his car. When I ask him not to do so, he gets mad. We live in a small town and people are beginning to gossip about it. Is there any way I can stop it?

A. H.

Answer: None, because the more you nag your husband about it, the more determined he will be to do as he pleases. But he is doing a very foolish thing and one that will bring scandal upon him and the girl. He should have enough sense and worldly experience to know that the world always believes the worst of a married couple.

Plane Falls, Night of Terror Follows

Booneville, March 13 — (UP) — An Oklahoma City oil executive spent a night of terror beside the body of his dead wife after their rented plane crashed in the Arkansas mountains.

Amateur Pilot J. W. Wallace, 24, told state troopers of his 16-hour ordeal after the light plane developed engine trouble and crashed as he tried to make a forced landing.

"I think there was water in the gas," Wallace said. "The engine kept sputtering and then died. I couldn't find a level place to land."

He said his wife, Helen Harrison Wallace, 24, died in his arms about 8 p.m. Saturday of injuries she suffered in the crash.

"Helen was hurt awfully bad," Wallace said. "I was afraid to leave her to find help. After she died I didn't know what to do—I was afraid I would get lost in the mountains after dark."

At daybreak Wallace left the wreckage to search for help. He stumbled seven miles to a farm house and called the state patrol and Sheriff Ollie Holland of Scott county.

He was in such a state of hysteria and shock that he could not

Dairymen Kills Wife, Takes Own Life

Salisbury, Md., March 15 — (UP) — Shots fired about 100 miles and a week apart snuffed out the lives of a well-to-do dairy owner and one of his two wives.

Russell C. Moore, 48, shot himself in a large home he maintained in Collingswood, N. J., yesterday as police approached to question him about the slaying of Marjorie Mae Mahnke Moore, 29, in Salisbury.

Just four hours before, her body had been found in the home she and her four-year-old daughter occupied in Salisbury. She had been dead — her body stretched over a kitchen chair — about a week, Moore and his daughter, Marilyn, apparently left

Wallace told the troopers that he and Mrs. Wallace were flying to Hot Springs, Ark., from Oklahoma City for a weekend visit when their plane crashed into the hills.

State Troopers Damon Wilson and Jim Hinnicutt removed the body of Mrs. Wallace. They said they drove about 15 miles south-east of Booneville and then walked a few miles to the crash scene.

Wallace emerged from the crash with numerous cuts and abrasions and was in a state of severe shock for several hours, authorities said. He is a member of the Wallace Oil Field Engineering Service Co., owned by his father, and had been flying for several years.
